FOR YOUR YEARS OF WILLING SERVICE TO THE SCHOOL, AND TO SHOW OUR APPRECIATION FOR ALL YOU HAVE GIVEN, WE DEDICATE THIS YEARBOOK TO YOU, MRS. WHITTED.

STAIRS

STAIRS ARE HERE TO STAY. ELIJAH GOT TO HEAVEN WITHOUT THEM. RAPUNZEL OFFERED A PRETTY GOOD SUBSTITUTE FOR THEM. IT IS EASIER TO GET TO THE TOP OF THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT IN THE ELEVATOR THAN TO CLIMB THEM. BUT FEW PLACES SEEM TO HAVE PUT MUCH TRUST IN NON - STAIRS FOR THEY ALWAYS BUILD STAIRS TOO.

STAIRS ARE QUITE SYMBOLIC. THEY LEAD UP TO GREAT HEIGHTS - UP WHERE LIGHT IS, UP WHERE FEW PEOPLE HAVE THE STRENGTH AND COURAGE TO CLIMB. THE SAME STAIRS LEAD DOWN - DOWN WHERE IT IS DARK, DOWN WHERE IT IS EASY TO GO, DOWN WHERE EVERYBODY IS BECAUSE IT IS EASY TO GET THERE.

SOME OF YOU WILL GO UP THE STAIRS, SOME DOWN.

George Meloy

CLIMB UP THIS STEP, CHILD DO NOT LOOK BACK, FOR YOU ARE ONLY BEGINNING AND THERE ARE MORE.

KEEP MOUNTING STAIRS, YOUTH THEY MAY BE UNSURE LIFE IS HARD AND UNCERTAIN BUT YOU MUST ENDURE.

REST NOW, GRANDFATHER. THE STAIRS TOOK THEIR TOLL. YOU ARE WEARY AND AGED, BUT HAVE ATTAINED YOUR GOAL.

PARTING IS SUCH Sweet Sorrow

One of the main disadvantages of Schutz is the annual exodus of teachers who have completed their terms. This year we are losing Mrs. Whitted, Mrs. Insley, Miss Moment and Roland Grumberg.

Mrs. Gertrude Whitted has been our Schutz housemother for three years. The efficient way in which she has performed this difficult job commands our gratitude and thanks for all that she has done.

Another teacher who will be missed by all next year is Mrs. Norma Insley who taught the fifth and sixth grades. Who will take girls to the dressmakers' next year and decorate the showcases? We will remember her for her interest in the places she visited, in people around her, and for her love of living.

Miss Sarah Moment was the teacher of first and second grades this last year. A familiar sight is Miss Moment followed by seven little disciples playing basketball. We will also miss the Hungarian bullfrog and the sound of her banging drawers as Miss Moment vainly hunts for the long lost Brahms Sixth Symphony.

Roland Grumberg is being missed by certain of his female students. He has taught French for two years at Schutz. In March, he left us for Canada where he is planning to study. Never again will Roland play at four square, much to our regret.

We are sorry when members of our staff leave us. Though others may take their places, we can never quite forget those who have been part of our life here.

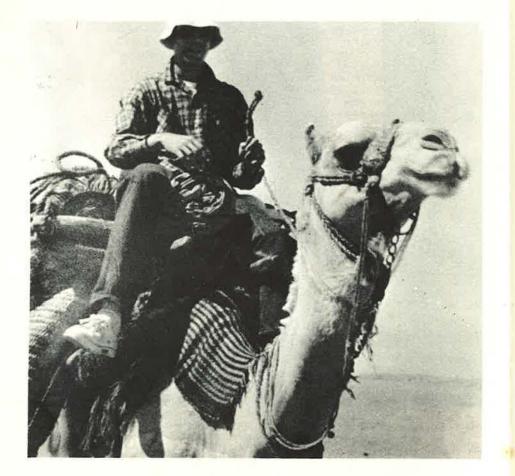

This year the Senier Class is composed of nine students who are all Americans and all boarders. The class president is Doy Sands, and Steve Bevis is the Student Council representative.

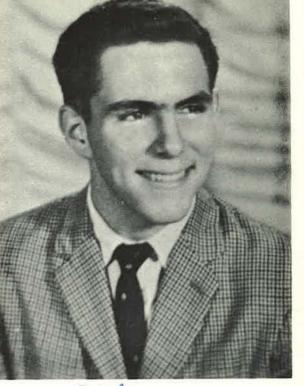

The seniors were auctioned as slaves by Mr. Meloy with the help of Mr. Turnbull. Slave Day proved to be a success. Slaves entertained the students in the chapel during recess and then had a mock wedding at lunch.

The class took a camel ride for its senior trip and went with a group of missionaries. They travelled to Bir Shetoun where there is a well out in the desert. The seniors returned to school sunburned and filled with memories of their wonderful trip.

This year the Junier Class has been very busy having class meetings which have little outcome. Kathy Adair, our president, has done a good job trying to get other than idle suggestions from us. Perhaps she will because our class is loaded with beauty, brains and talent. We do have the distinction of having three students out of the eight "Schutz Scholars" and eight out of the twenty seven honor students. No one can deny that we have the most romantic couples in the school. If we've not been very productive, perhaps we've been too busy being wonderful. We're so full of potential, however, that I'm sure that something great must come out of it before the end of the year.

Our class is made of eleven students from five different nationality groups. As a class, we have done nothing together. In fact, the only members who get along well together are F.B. and Carolyn. F.B. is our class president. Max is our class grandfather and our trouble maker is Alex. Then there are the rest of us assorted odd-balls who have no special function.

Actually, we've had a good year as years go. We will always remember it.

Duffy's legs are long and hairy, Harry thinks he's quite the berry. Jesse's chest is hard and sound, While Yves' chin drags on the ground. Gwenny thinks of Tana all day, And poor li'l Joyce has nothing to say. Merry's always committing a sin. And where you are, you know Chrissy's been. Debby's very young and small. Ol' Marge is always on the ball. while Jeannie talks about her steeds, Ruthie surprises us with her deeds. Inan does her work with a sigh, And Gruppie won't refuse that pie! Li'l John ends the list of our class, The Freshmen Class. Alas! Alas!

This poem doesn't paint an accurate picture of our '64 Freshmen Class but it can give a little impression of it.

We started in September with twelve students. Then at different times, Merry Swart, Yves Salama, and James Sandilands came in to "join up".

Our class president is Debby Neely, and our representative to the Student Council is Gwen Adair.

We've taken many trips this year. Among them were the trips to Mrs. Brooks' for a slide-show and a trip to Montaza Palace for a field trip.

We've all had our difficulties this year (algebra! wow!) but nobody in the Freshmen Class can say that we didn't enjoy our ninth grade year.

Girls have various ways of warding off would-be lovers, but the following story is of one of the most unique and effective ways yet.

The 1964 Juniors were only little kids at the time. We were in the sixth grade and were at the stage where we considered it to be "grown up" to have a boy friend. A girl could always tell who was after her by the amount of time the boy spent pestering her.

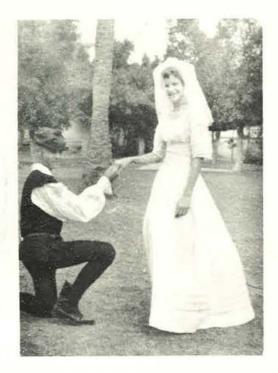

A certain boy had just gotten over the effects of one "love affair" and was feeling that it was about time to begin another. So he began to cast his eyes around on the "unattached" girls in our class. Having settled at long last on "The Girl", he proceeded to show his affection by pestering her.

After several days, he felt that things were going well, so during study period one afternoon, he went to her desk and bent over to tell her a secret. She did not really enjoy looking at his "derriere", but seeing that it resembled an apple, she bit! Needless to say, that boy's love was thwarted effectively!

The moral of this story is: Girls who are popular should take good care of their teeth; they come in handy in emergencies.

The eighth grade class this year is made up of four different nationalities. We have a girl and a boy from India, a boy from Italy, a boy from Yugoslavia, and thirteen American boys and girl.

We are studying seven subjects. The girls take Home Economics also. Nine different teachers teach us.

This year we have not done much as a class. Once we presented a play called, "The Sire de Maletroit's Door", to the school. We have not had any trips outside the school.

During classes our group is always segregated. The boys use one half of the room and the girls use one fourth. When a point is brought up in class discussion, we never agree. The boys think one thing and the girls another.

Next year we are looking forward to more privileges in ninth grade. Chloe Swart

In the seventh grade there are three girls and eleven boys. There were four girls until Lizu Bergus left.

The seventh grade is quite an active class. We have one main talent and that is talking. The boys do most of that. I am sure that the Courtesy Court is well aware of that.

Most of the seventh grade boys take basketball as their main sport. There is only one girl who takes basketball.

The only trip that we have taken as a class was to see an art museum. We all enjoyed that because we missed science and geography classes.

GRADES FIVE AND SIX

Twenty one students make up the fifth and sixth grades. There are nine boarding students and twelve day students. We have students of eight different nationalities. Our teacher is Mrs.Norma Insley. Our class president is Ann Quick. Representatives to the Student Council are Carol Turnbull and Ann Quick.

An activity that the class enjoys is chorus. Mr. Tony teaches us all sorts of new songs. He sometimes asks us to go to the platform and sing a solo or a duet.

Mrs. Insley chose Steve Minett, Jane Meloy, Ann Turnbull, and Josephine Johnson for the Audio-Visual Squad. We have shown many pictures in chapel and during social studies period this year.

When we had Open House in October, Mr. Adair helped us with a display of polygons spheres, and octogons to display some of the teaching aids we use in arithmetic.

For weekly chapel, one Friday a group of us got together and acted out the story of Joseph when he was taken into Egypt.

GRADES THREE AND FOUR

This year Miss Allan is our teacher. There are fourteen fourth and five third graders.

Our arithmetic teacher is Mr. Adair. In the fourth grade arithmetic, we learn long division and long multiplication. The third graders are learning about two figure addition.

Mrs. Brooks is our art teacher. She took the class to an art museum. It was very interesting.

Mr. Tony teaches us French and music. In music class we learn many Arabic and French songs. Most of us enjoy singing very much.

Miss Allan teaches us social studies. We are studying about Egypt. It is fun to learn about Egypt because we are familiar with it.

Dr. Bobb is our Bible teacher. We have studied about the Old Testament.

LITTLEST "ANGELS"

LATECOMER - LAIN BOWIE

With Mr. Millhone leaving for good at the beginning of this year, we lost a mighty efficient and well organized sports man. He gave us the real spirit and a good push before each game. But the young and handsome Lebanese coach from the Y.M.C.A. is pulling in right behind and doing a fine job. He doesn't get along too well with his English but he can make that basketball dance and the team keep the beat.

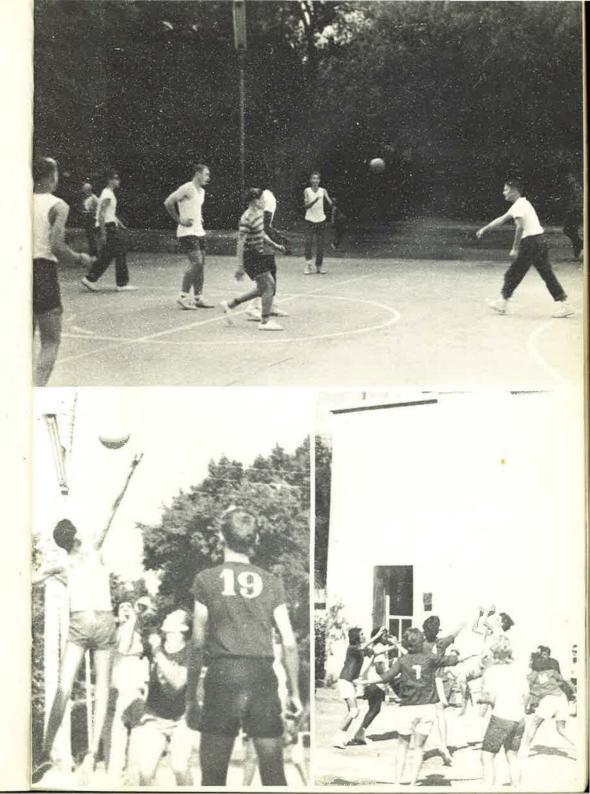

Dave Hoekstra gave the Junior High a boost with his drive-in jump shot which is nearly impossible to stop. And Duff would pull in the rebound like an ape eating bananas.

F.B. got a lot of playing experience with the American team in Khartoum last summer. He will sink a ball from about any where around the head of the "key". Old Grandaddy Gilbert will take the ball right off the run and beat it down the court like a scared rabbit.

The team is okay this year but every so often they seem to let themselves get down and lose the playing spirit, and this is taking its toll.

Peter Parr

JUNIOR VARSITY

VARSITY

"Fast break, fast break," yells Coach Pete Parr as ten panting girls jump for the rebound.

Down the court, pass, shoot, rebound, and again down the court - pant, pant - pass This is the usual routine we, the girls' basketball team, follow every Monday and Wednesday afternoon from 4:09[±] ("What makes a good army?" etc.) until 5:35[±].

Our spectacular team had had many newcomers this year which make a grand total of fourteen. Our special rivals are the Maadi girls. The first time we played, we defeated them, but the second time, we were not so successful.

We are losing only two of our players, so we have high hopes for our team of next year and look forward to just as many victories.

Barbara Philips

MAADI GAMES

January 18th was a day of great excitement for the Schutzites. That was the day Maadi came down from Cairo to play three basketball games. The day was one of the coldest days that we had had.

Maadi arrived shortly after 11:00. All the last minute things were done quickly. Kids ran here and there shouting and yelling. The chairs were dashed out of the chapel at top speed and were placed on the sidelines of the court.

The Junior High boys dashed to their rooms to change. Meanwhile cheerleaders were going over a few points for cheers and kids were beginning to find choice seats and get settled with blankets, sweaters and coats.

The first game began. Our Junior High gave the other team a hard fight but we lost 36-40. We were proud of our boys though.

Lunch was soon after the first game. This was also when everyone close to a heater got warm before going out in the cold for the next two games.

After lunch was the girls' game. This was the most exciting game. Maadi was ahead at the half by one basket. After the half both of the teams kept within a basket of each other. Everyone was standing up yelling. The last five minutes were really hectic. The game ended with us winning 26-24.

Right after the girls' game the Varsity played. Our team is real good; it was not hard getting the lead and keeping it. We won 57-33.

On February 29 Schutz took a trip to Cairo. We were not as fortunate this time. We lost all three games.

Doy Sands

GIRLS

Half the interest of basketball games is in the cheerleaders. At each quarter of the game seven peppy girls in blue and white shirts and ivy league sweaters with blue S's on them run into the middle of the court to lead their school in cheers.

This year Merry Swart, Sharon Hoffmeier and Debby Neely were added to last year's members, Roberta Glim, Doy Sands, Carolyn Kraft, and Kathy Ammon, to make up a squad.

For girls' games, Dave Hoekstra, Jeff Dietrich, and John Russell have been added. They have done very well and have added a lot to the cheering.

Debby Neely

GRADE SCHOOL GYM

Gym this year is fun. We have gym right before basketball practice on Tuesday and Thursday. Miss Allan's class takes gym from 2:00 to 2:30 but "Dona", as we grade schoolers call him, does not teach Miss Allan's class so they don't do anything except what they want to do. Then Mrs.Insley's class has gym from 2:30 to 3:00 and since "Dona" teaches them they play something and have lots of fun. Then, although we are pretty tired, we have basketball practice. Only five girls attend "B-Ball" practice but there usually are ten boys so we get three teams. We take turns being referees for our games and so we all get practice as a referee much to the dismay of players since we are pretty bad referees.

Steve Minett.

Schutz wouldn't be Schutz without sports. The most common sport is basketball, but Schutz has more to offer.

Volleyball: As yet not too popular, volleyball is getting a good foothold in the minds and actions of the students. This year, it took over the afternoon that basketball season ended. Competition is looked forward to in this sport and of course, it is hoped that we will have some victories too.

Tennis: If you are looking for the sport that has had its roots in the heart of Schutz for the longest time, then tennis is the one you will find. The court is ready for anyone and lessons are offered for all those who are interested.

Tetherball: This game is played much during the school year. It is played by all and enjoyed by all but the losers.

Track and Field: Much competition and variety are offered in track and field activities. The most popular events are the mile run, the half mile run, the 440 yard dash, the 220 yard dash, shot put, pole vault, broad jump, high jump, and hop step and jump.

If your interests are not with any of the above, there are bicycles to ride, stilts to walk on, skates to skate on, and a ping pong set to challenge you.

John Haspels

VOLLEYBALL

BOMBARDMENT - CAUGHT OUT OF ACTION.

4 - SQUARE

Following the tradition of Halloween, or Allhallows Eve, when the Lord of Death would call together the souls of the wicked who had died in the past year, Schutz celebrated the holiday with quite an assortment of ghosts, skeletons, and even much more elaborate group costumes than in past years. Before the judges passed such characters as cute little pumpkins, a group of diggers which had come straight from Pharoah's tomb, bringing with them His Highness' mummified remains, the Pied Piper of Hamlen and his rats, conveniently numbered Rat 1, Rat 2, Rat 3, etc. a group dressed as Cinderella and accompanying characters from the tale, and a warrior (Gordie Kraft) stuck with a spear visibly protruding from both sides of his body. The judges had a hard time deciding who had done the best, but those who won really deserved it.

> After the costume parade, we were entertained by a Gully-Gully man who proceeded to keep our attention pinpointed on him by taking water from people's stomachs and pulling live chicks (one named McKenzie) out of his mouth. By the time these events and the "Pot Luck" supper were over, everyone gratefully and happily spent the rest of the evening square dancing.

> > George Reed

OOH-LA-LA

THE FLINTSTONES

One of the greatest events during the year was the day weading bells rang at Schutz. Mr. John Collins, a Peace Corpsman who had been working in Ethiopia, came to Schutz to marry Carolyn Carlson who had flown here from the States.

Four students took part in the ceremony. George Reed and John Haspels were ushers. It was hard to tell who was the more embarrassed, the two boys or the giggling girls who went up the aisle on their arms. Kathy Ammon read a poem and Virginia Watkins played the organ.

Schutzites thoroughly enjoyed and enthusiastically took part in all the wedding traditions -- rice throwing, trying to tie tin cans and signs to the car, and eating the wedding cake.

THE NEXT BRIDE ...

SPEECH CONTEST

Programs rustled while chairs filled with fidgeting contestants. The lights went out as the second annual speech contest, sponsored by the journalism class, began. The first category, which was grade school extemporaneous speeches, was announced by Bill Brook. Though the given topic was food, the audience heard about everything from fried caterpillars and boiled sheep's eyes to bacteria which cause food poisoning. The program continued with poetry and literature excerpts read by grade schoolers. Then everyone adjourned to the dining room where punch and coffee and brownies were being served.

During the intermission, the judges, Miss Irene Cooper, Mrs. Grace LaFont, and Dr. Clarence Gray, decided on the winners. The first place in each category was awarded to Steve Minett, Steve Troyer, and Debby Jamison respectively.

Having relaxed for fifteen minutes, the audience again filed into the chapel for the high school division of the speech contest. The categories of competition were held in the same order as the grade school.

There was much deliberation on the part of the judges because the contestants were all excellent. Elizabeth Grupp won the sweepstakes as she had done the year before.

Sandy Jamison.

U. N. DAY

As students of international backgrounds, it was fitting that we hold a United Nations' Day celebration at Schutz. We all should realize that the United Nations is trying to establish peace, public welfare and prosperity in a divided world. There are those countries which are for and those which are against peace; there are countries which hold the government of their nation before the needs of their people; there are nations which are finding it difficult to develop their resources because they lack fund and skilled workers.

I hope that the United Nations' Day celebration was able to convince us who are of international backgrounds that it is possible to unite for a common cause in an atmosphere of peace.

BOY SCOUTS

With Mr. Adair as our Scoutmaster, the Boy Scouts have had a busy year. We meet every Friday at 1:00 p.m. for an hour of learning and (goofing). When everyone is at attention, we face the Scout flag and recite the Scout Oath and Law. Then we break up into groups to study Scout skills including first aid, morse code, knots, and maps and compass. There are always plenty of tests to pass.

Several times we have gone off campus to try out our skills. Our first trip was a hike to Sidi Bishr where we had fun cooking

(burning?) our food and playing commando games. On our trip to Maryut, some of the Scouts proved their skill in following a map in unknown territory. (Only one got lost.) At Agamy, personal fitness was stressed as the Scouts heaved the bus through soft sand in pouring rain

We have had a court of honor where the Scouts received awards for their efforts in passing some requirements. Mr.Adair conducted the ceremony during a Wednesday chapel service.

GIRL AND CUB SCOUTS

Ann Quick, Ann Turnbull, Jane Meloy, Sarah Jane Meloy, Carol Turnbull, Jeannetta Hartman, and Sara Lash Meloy are the Girl Scouts this year. Mrs. Whitted is our leader.

This year we have done many things. We made games and sent colorful pictures to the Fowler Home. We have also passed requirements that are requested in the Girl Scout Handbook.

This year Mary Quick flew up from the Brownies. There was a party honoring her. We have had lots of fun in Girl Scouts.

Carol Turnbull

Steve Bevis is our Cub Scout leader. So far, we have gone on one campout. We meet each Friday from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m. Sometimes we have games, and sometimes we have tests or other times we discuss things like where to go on the next campout

We are having a lot of fun.

Henry Williamson Jimmy Philips

"Creak" - Six girls sink "gracefully" (?) to the ground and go over the recital dance for the fifth time. Heads touching knees, or trying to touch -- the dance begins.

Practice for a recital has been started, and sore toes and feet are a familiar complaint. But don't get the wrong impression. We all love ballet and are glad that Madame Louvray is such a patient teacher, and that Madame Tourne is such a patient accompaniest.

Up 'til Christmas we had been having a full hour of exercises, but around January we started devoting half the time to learning our dance.

This year there are no boys in our group, but goodness knows - we tried hard enough to get them to join.

The grade school class meets at 3:00 in the chapel, and at 4:00, the high school class takes their place. Finally, at 5:00, everybody limps out except those who have to learn solo dances.

Ruth Galloway

Liszt in the lounge, Rachmaninoff in the rec. hall, Chopin in the chapel. what more could one desire? On a clear spring day when all is still, perhaps you can be privileged to hear all three at once! It's the next best thing to stereo!

At recess any day, you're sure to see at least one frantic student who has just been struck with the frightening realization that his piano lesson is on that very afternoon. A careful recess observer will note him heading for the nearest piano like a frightened bird.

Recitals are practiced for long in advance, and one finds it virtually impossible to practice on the grand piano the day before a scheduled recital. When the dreaded event is over at last, and we have sweated out our entrance on the stage with cold, clammy hands, I don't know if the students are much more relieved than Mrs. Rosati is.

But, all in all, despite hard practice and recitals, I think that we enjoy piano, and appreciate Mrs. Rosati's good instruction and help.

Elizabeth Grupp

With the accompaniment of, "Your stomach, Gruppyl" and, "You are all lazy!", from our director, Mr. Tony, our famous choir slaves every week on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. Mr. Tony somehow finds time to study all sorts of pieces from the Hymn Book, Twice Fifty-Five, and various other pieces, and select some for us to sing. Though we don't always appreciate his excellent taste - ("Which Is The Properest Day To. Sing" ??) - we try to make something of the songs.

This year we have performed at many places. For Christmas we sang at Palais and Tanta, then later at St. Xavier and the Conservatoire. Our special soloists are Sanly Jamison, Bill Brook, Gwen Adair, and Elizabeth Grupp, but Mr. Tony is always on the look-out for other hidden talent.
