

TRIBUTE TO MARGIE ROY

I watch my children growing up in an American suburban neighborhood and I wish I could transport them to a mission environment so that they could grow up surrounded by Christian families and friends. My friends from my years at Schutz are treasured and especially Margie Roy, who was my confidant, room mate and close friend.

She was my sister in the best sense of the word. We roomed together almost all of the years I was at Schutz.

Margie and I spent many hours sharing and confiding in each other. We sewed identical clothes so we could be dressed alike. We double dated and often went shopping in Alex together. We sang in the church choir at Stanley Bay and many times got the giggles in the middle of the service.

Margie and I were co-editors of the Yearbook. She was very good at organizing and getting things done. Her faithfulness and constancy as a friend are things that I will always treasure.
